The Society will provide a limited number of small grants to help defray travel expenses for graduate students to attend the annual meeting and present papers; these may vary in amount but usually do not exceed $500. Applicants should be ASE members, but do not have to be admitted to Ph.D. candidacy. The selection committee will consider the quality of the research and the ethnohistorical focus of the topic, based on the detailed abstract and letter of support accompanying this application. Preference will be given to those applicants who have not previously been awarded an ASE Student Travel Grant.
